WHAT IS NEW ZEALAND RISING?

New Zealand Rising is an alliance of separate groups and individuals from all across New Zealand who believe in a better future. We are many different people with different views, however we all share a common vision for the future.

"We, the people, stand united for a New Zealand that is respectful, includes everyone, and is free of government overreach."

"Kia tūkotahi tātou ō Aotearoa, hei whakarangatira tātou i a tātou. Herea te Kāwanatanga, kia kore e pēhia te mana o te tāngata."

Our website contains a directory of all groups around New Zealand that share this vision.

Newsletters, past and present can be viewed and downloaded here.

From the Editor:

I was going into our local supermarket yesterday, and a man approached me and said, "Excuse me, I want to thank you.", I replied, "Thanks, but, for what?" He said, "You, and others in our community, stood out on the road with signs for many days some years ago, trying to wake us up about the dangers of the injection and government overreach." He added, "My family and I were just going about our lives, not thinking about these things. But because of you, and others, and what we're seeing with injuries around us, we've woken up and see what's really going on."

He added, "I know you all suffered some abuse, and I always said to myself, 'If I ever see you again somewhere, I'll make a point to thank you." I replied, with hand on heart, "Thank you, you've made my day. May I share your story?" He said yes.

So, your words, your actions, your standing up and saying something, make a difference. This morning I visited our local Paperplus shop, and asked the owner if he'd remove the big Ardern book display. He said no. But on my way out, I saw someone else had added the book "Wrongdoings" to the display. Keep up the good work, and stay the course.

Truth on Trial: A Debrief on the Covid Inquiry Public Hearings

By NZDSOS Media Team

On 15th July, Voices for Freedom (VFF) hosted an important debrief webinar following the first public hearings of the c-19 Royal Commission of Inquiry. The conversation features VFF's Claire Deeks, Alia Bland, and lawyer Katie Ashby-Koppens, joined by special guests Lynda Wharton (Health Forum NZ) and NZDSOS doctors Dr Matt Shelton and Dr Alison Goodwin. Together, they reflect on their presentations to the Commission, discuss the tone and conduct of the hearings, and expose the deeper implications of what unfolded, and what was left unsaid.

Watch below as they unpack the process, the politics and the pursuit of truth:

- ✓ What it was really like in the hearing room.
- ✓ The strategy behind our approach.

- ✓ Reactions to the Commission's questioning.
 - ✓ What we achieved and what still needs to happen
 - ✓ How YOU can help keep the pressure on.

The Latest Attack on NZ Farming

Why We Must Quit the Paris Agreement

From: Groundswell NZ

The NZ Taxonomy is the latest attack on farming in New Zealand, setting up impossible emissions standards to make it too hard for farms to access credit and investment. It comes from the Centre for Sustainable Finance, who say it's all about the Paris Agreement. We'll be fighting this every step of the way, but the only long term solution is to Quit Paris. Rebuilding New Zealand One Council At A Time

Everything you need to know about the 2025 local body elections.

From: Reality Check Radio

With local body elections 2025 fast approaching, the opportunity to enact meaningful change across the country is ripe for the taking.

Contrary to popular belief, local body politics plays a critical role in shaping the direction of the country. Councils make decisions that impact everything from planning laws and infrastructure to community values and personal freedoms.

But unlike national politics, local government is a space where everyday people can step in and make a meaningful difference. It's accessible, Influenceable and winnable. Learn more here.

Densification of 5G: Risk to Health/Safety Outside Scope in Govt Consultation

From: NZDSOS

What happens when our government advances telecommunications policy without accounting for how risk is actually generated? This post explores how the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) and Ministry of Health (MoH) have systematically excluded health and safety from their regulatory frameworks — most recently in a proposal to deregulate 'low-impact' 5G infrastructure under the Resource Management Act.

But the real risk from 5G isn't just from the towers or the phones — it's from the feedback loop between them. As densification of small-cell antennas accelerates.. Read the rest of this post here.

Award-Winning Billboards Rejected "This Only Makes Us More Determined"

"We had one simple message: give kids a #CommercialBreak. But even this proved too much for ad giants. A bit ironic when big food companies like McDonald's, Coca-Cola and Cadbury are allowed to plaster our streets with ads.

To our young people, this feels like censorship. But it's also a sign. Our message is making a difference — one that the boardrooms of big food companies don't like. And this only makes us more determined."

Vietnam to Ventilation: Sisters Go on 18th Birthday trip, One Ends Up in ICU

Auri Law (left) went to Vietnam with her older sister Caea (right) to celebrate Auri turning 18. Now Auri is in critical condition in intensive care in Vietnam. Photo / Givealittle

What was meant to be an adventurous trip to Vietnam to mark a milestone birthday led to a teenager ending up in intensive care, unable to see and needing help to breathe. Auri Law left for Vietnam a few weeks ago to celebrate her 18th birthday with her older sister Caea before tragedy struck and she discovered she may have a “very rare neurological condition”.

Auri’s mother, Staci Law, told the Herald she rushed over on last-minute flights a few days ago to be with her daughter after an anxious wait.

“As a mother, I just want to take away the physical and emotional pain I saw my baby go through today. And I couldn’t. I feel defeated,” Law said on a Givealittle update today.

A Givealittle was set up to help the family with flights to get her sister home, Mum to Vietnam and any costs not covered by medical insurance. Any excess funds will go towards medical costs for Caea and Auri once they return to New Zealand, such as therapy and treatments.

At the time of Auri’s hospital admission, her mother was stuck in New Zealand and she made a plea for help. Read the full article here.

An urgent open letter to all NZF Members of Parliament

By Mary Hobbs, The Daily Telegraph

This month, your party will require you to vote on the Gene Technology Bill. As part of the coalition agreement with National, New Zealand First agreed to support the Gene Technology Bill, but only if it ensured “strong protections for human health and the environment.” (Click the link — p7, bullet-point 5). Most Kiwis would understand that phrase to mean that New Zealand First would not vote in support unless there were “strong protections for human health and the environment.”

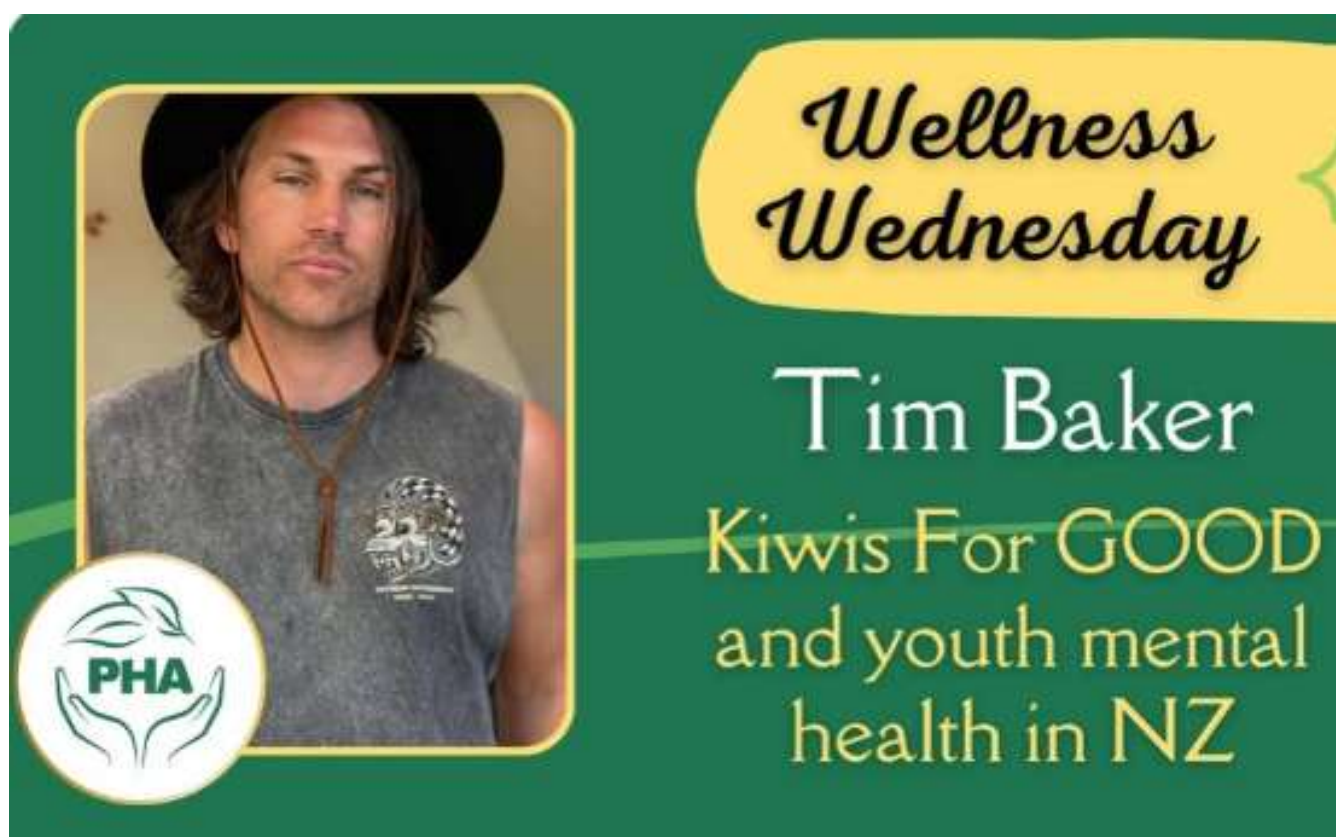

Yet there are no meaningful protections for human health or the environment in this legislation. Despite this, at the first reading, New Zealand First MPs voted in support of it. Read the full letter here.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

An Inspiring and Powerful I'L Summit

The World Health Organization's amended International Health Regulations threaten national sovereignty, require nations to censor their citizens for "misinformation" and "disinformation," and support the rollout of an international digital ID that could be used as the technical platform for the imposition of a Chinese-style social credit system worldwide. July 19, 2025, was the last day for nations to reject these amended IHRs.

Meanwhile, the WHO's Pandemic Treaty, approved in May 2025, sets up the Pathogen Access and Benefit Sharing System (PABS) to "promote the rapid and timely sharing of 'materials and sequence information on pathogens with pandemic potential'" (Article 12). This system will concentrate all the world's most deadly pathogens into the hands of unelected, unaccountable bureaucrats under the influence of the Chinese Communist Party and the pharmaceutical industry – the same globalist functionaries who so seriously botched the WHO's response to Covid-19. The WHO may then share them with labs all over the world, ostensibly to develop vaccines, diagnostics and other treatments. This system poses a significant risk of escalating the chances of pandemics caused by lab leaks, as well as bio-terrorist attacks. Although the United States and Argentina have withdrawn from the WHO, they will still be affected by the pandemics generated by the PABS system.

On July 15, an eminent panel of international experts who exposed the dangers of these WHO agreements discussed what we can do to stop them. The international summit was open to the public; we Kiwis had to be awake at 3am to see it though. Our own Kirsten Murfitt and Sue Grey were panellists on the summit. It was so inspiring and informative to see some of the most active watchdogs throughout the world gathering in one meeting. Watch the full replay here.

Trump Admin Withdraws U.S. From W.H.O. Amendments

US President Donald Trump and his administration have rejected World Health Organisation reforms citing liberty concerns. Photo / AFP

President Donald Trump's administration says the United States is rejecting changes agreed last year on the World Health Organization's pandemic response, claiming they violate the country's sovereignty.

Trump, on returning to office on January 20, immediately began his nation's withdrawal from the UN body, but the State Department said the language from last year would still have been binding on the United States.

Secretary of State Marco Rubio and Health and Human Services Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr, who is a long-time critic of vaccines, said the changes "risk unwarranted interference with our national sovereign right to make health policy". Sen. Richard Blumenthal, a staunch vaccine supporter, said he was “heartbroken” after hearing parents recount how their once-healthy children were injured or killed by vaccines delivered during Tuesday's U.S. Senate hearing, “Voices of the Vaccine Injured.” The senator suggested he may be willing to look into the issue of whether pharmaceutical companies should be held liable for injuries caused by their products. Blumenthal said he is “extremely suspicious” when an industry is given liability protection. Children's Health Defence Attorney Ray Flores is suing U.S. Health Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr. for failing to establish a task force dedicated to making childhood vaccines safer, as mandated by federal law. The lawsuit alleges Kennedy is violating the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, which requires the secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to promote the development of safer childhood vaccines that cause "fewer and less serious adverse reactions" than existing ones. The act requires HHS to provide Congress with progress reports every two years. However, the safety improvement provision of the law has been ignored for 35 years. The lawsuit points out that since the law was passed in 1986, no HHS Secretary has ever submitted the required safety reports to Congress. Kennedy filed a similar lawsuit in 2018 while working as an attorney. - <https://childrenshealthdefense.org/defender/lawsuit-targets-rfk-jr-failing-task-force-childhood-vaccine-safety>

Deborah Conrad, a Physician Assistant, who was fired from Rochester Regional Health for reporting vaccine adverse events has been vindicated by a federal court. On June 11, 2025, the U.S. District Court for the Western District of New York issued a landmark ruling for Conrad in her case against Rochester Regional Health and United Memorial Medical Center. Judge Sinatra denied the hospital's motion to dismiss, letting her case go to discovery. Here's what this means: Rochester Regional Health had a material obligation to report serious adverse events to VAERS under their Provider Agreement with the CDC; The hospital's failure to report while continuing to seek federal reimbursement was potential fraud against the government; Her retaliation claim can move forward - the court found she was probably fired for trying to expose the hospital's failure to report adverse events. This decision establishes critical legal precedents: VAERS Reporting is Not Optional: The court confirmed that adverse event reporting requirements are "material conditions of payment" - not just bureaucratic paperwork. Hospitals Can Be Held Accountable: Healthcare providers who take federal money while failing to meet safety reporting obligations can face False Claims Act liability. - <https://www.covidlawcast.com/p/covid-accountability-victory-court>

Thanks to the ardent efforts of the legal team with ICAN, over 600,000 pages of Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) data that FDA used to authorize and then approve Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine are now available to the public. After FDA approved Pfizer's COVID-19 vaccine in August 2021, ICAN attorneys won a lawsuit against the FDA for all data used to license the vaccine. The FDA produced over a million pages of records. However, upon closer look, attorneys discovered that FDA left out data relating to the vaccine's EUA file— an additional 600,000+ pages of vital information on the COVID-19 vaccine trials. In late 2024, ICAN attorneys went back to court to demand that FDA provide full transparency and produce the EUA file. The judge agreed. The final batch of EUA data was received at the end of June and ICAN is proud to make it available to the public. Interested parties can visit the ICAN website to download the documents.

'Millions Against Mandates' has written a new guide to assist those questioning the vaccine narrative. They state: "A core precept of this guide is that human rights are foremost. Vaccine policy should serve people, not the other way around. As such, vaccine policy should be transparent and people should be able choose what vaccines, if any, make sense for them. Medical culture has become dogmatic and toxic regarding vaccines. But nothing can change that 1) vaccine safety science is flawed, 2) the vaccine schedule is not individualized medicine, and 3) you have a fundamental right to choose what is right for you." "Vaccine mandates, in any form, are unethical. They represent a kind of colonialist mentality in which the all-wise doctor dictates mandates that the uneducated lay person must accept. Instead, we advocate being a savvy, knowledgeable consumer of medical information and science." -

U Chicago Medicine has announced it is shuttering its transgender interventions for minors, citing Trump administration federal actions that it has little choice but to comply with. Parents as First Educators writes: The Children's National Hospital in Washington, D.C. has announced it will be ending all "gender-transition medications" as of August 30, 2025. It's refreshing to see medical institutions making smart decisions – whether rooted in science, caution, common sense – or political pressure. Canadian hospitals must follow suit. European countries like Sweden, Finland, and the U.K. have already pulled back, citing a lack of long-term safety data and concern over irreversible outcomes. Meanwhile, in Canada, the BC Children's hospital still offers Lupron, a chemical castration drug, as part of their "gender-affirming healthcare" protocol for children. What are Canadian hospitals waiting for? How many more children need to fall prey to the irreversible physical and mental damages caused by "gender-affirming healthcare"? Our children deserve care, not experimentation. Parents deserve transparency, not ideological pressure. Medical professionals should be free to speak out, warning that this radical approach is not rooted in sound science or ethics. Children's National Hospital did the right thing – for whatever reason. It's time our hospitals here in Canada did the same. - <https://www.facebook.com/pafe4/>

Health Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr. has signed a recommendation to remove a mercury-based preservative from influenza vaccines in the United States, the Department of Health and Human Services said on July 23. "After more than two decades of delay, this action fulfills a long-overdue promise to protect our most vulnerable populations from unnecessary mercury exposure." "Injecting any amount of mercury into children when safe, mercury-free alternatives exist defies common sense and public health responsibility. Today, we put safety first." - <https://www.theepochtimes.com/us/rfk-jr-orders-removal-of-mercury-from-flu-vaccines-5891415>

Tania the Herbalist wrote this week about parenting in today's digital world: "Maybe you've noticed the little things... The YouTube shorts they watch. The "influencers" they quote. The sudden opinions they parrot that sound nothing like your values. Or maybe you've just felt the shift... More resistance... less openness. A constant battle between what you believe and what they're absorbing. And you start wondering: When did the world get so loud... and my voice become background noise? Our generation is raising kids in a digital war zone. Where confusion is sold as compassion. Where rebellion is applauded. And where traditional values are mocked. So no - you're definitely not crazy. You're just trying to parent in a world that's trying to erase you - the parent."

The Democracy Fund is voicing concern that the government's study on misinformation will be used to restrict free speech. The Canadian government recently announced the results of a study entitled "Concern about misinformation—connections to trust in media, confidence in institutions, civic engagement and hopefulness, 2023/2024." The study purported to investigate online "misinformation." The study positions the increase in online "misinformation" as a problem that needs solving, presumably by government intervention. Conservative MP Leslyn Lewis sounded the alarm on Monday after Canada failed to reject amendments to the World Health Organization's International Health Regulations, warning these upcoming changes would undermine Canadian sovereignty. Lewis highlighted that the deadline to reject the binding WHO amendments passed over the weekend, and Canada did not opt out. She criticized the federal government for not holding parliamentary discussions on the matter, despite the potential impact on Canada's ability to manage public health crises independently. "These amendments grant the WHO influence over Canada's public health response during global emergencies," Lewis said on X. "Canadians deserve a government that cares about protecting our national sovereignty." "Unelected international bureaucrats do not know better than Canadians and should not have authority over how Canada governs." No elbows up here. - <https://www.junonews.com/p/leslyn-lewis-slams-canadas-acceptance>

Biden, A tactical error by pardoning Fauci

By Dr David E. Martin PhD

Biden made a terrible tactical error by pardoning Fauci.

Under Article 2, Section 2, Clause 1 of our Constitution, the President has the right to issue pardons, but there's an EXCEPTION to what can be pardoned, and the exception is you cannot pardon an IMPEACHABLE offence.

As it turns out, under the Edmund ruling in the Supreme Court, Edmond v US, principal officers of federal agencies are subject to impeachment not only during their employment, but during their retirement as well.

So, the great thing is Biden's pardon has no bearing on an impeachable offence and the senate could institute articles of impeachment against Anthony Fauci for which he would actually ultimately be held liable because on 5 occasions he has perjured himself in front of Congress where he has said he did not do gain-of-function research, despite the fact that in October of 2014, in a letter written from NIAID to the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, he specifically says Ralph Baric's work with the Wuhan Institute of Virology.. Read the rest here.

New Platform, An Alternative to Netflix, Disney & Fake News

From the Editor:

I recently heard James O'Keefe, (founder of Project Veritas, and O'Keefe Media Group), mention that his new documentary will be located on Unifyd.tv

O'Keefe is a groundbreaking investigative journalist, so when he suggests checking something out, I follow his lead. After a quick look here's what I've found at Unifyd:

A Bold Mission

We have a singular focus that is dedicated to the Unification of Humanity

A UNIFYD World. Our goal at UNIFYD is to create a place where we can come together to raise the collective consciousness while preserving and promoting freedom of speech.

Our community was created to give people a place to come together and support the initiative of building a new system rooted out of compassion and love, and dedicated towards catalyzing humanity's ascension.

UNIFYD is full of thought-leaders from all over the world who have come together in one place to share their experience and knowledge to the masses. More than just a streaming platform, UNIFYD is full of exclusive films, series, documentaries, interactive workshops, Q&As, interviews, meditations, LIVE events, an interactive community and so much more.

Exclusive & Groundbreaking Titles

And most interesting, when poking around their website I found their "Ambassador Program" called "Operation Unity" where one can earn a referral fee for sending someone to their site. Yes, it looks like a sales pitch, but it's an important one and a great alternative to putting any energy into Netflix or Disney. You can learn more about Unifyd here.

Disclaimer: I am not in the ambassador sales programme....yet. But I might give it a go sometime.

FASCISM ALERT: Show That Wasn't Making Money Canceled

NEW YORK CITY — In a stunning example of rampant fascism, a TV network cancelled a show that wasn't making any money and had terrible ratings.

State-Run Propaganda Program Shut Down

Along with NPR and PBS, a state-run propaganda program hosted by Stephen Colbert announced it would be shutting down due to a loss of funding. The Late Show, filmed at the historic Ed Sullivan Theater, transitioned from late-night comedy to officially sanctioned state-run propaganda in 2015 with the hiring of Colbert. Though known for his comedic work at the time, Colbert was reportedly eager to promote government-generated information initiatives in exchange for money. Read more here

DOJ Announces They Have Arrested Man Responsible For Creating Microsoft OneDrive

Night Show propaganda dance is burned in my mind. I used to ask myself, "How do they get away with this stuff?" And in the end, they didn't. Ignore them, and they fall away.

New Foundation for Unfunny Comedians

From SNBR News

Stephen Colbert announces plans to start a foundation to support fellow unfunny comedians suffering from TDS following the cancelation of his show. Follow this story here.

U.S. — In an afternoon press conference, U.S. Attorney General Pam Bondi proudly announced that the man responsible for Microsoft OneDrive had been arrested, ending an almost 20-year-long reign of terror that affected millions.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I'm happy to say we got this scumbag," said Bondi to applause from everyone in the press room. Learn more here.

"The border wall is a big issue these days. To show you how divided the country is, recent polls show that 40% are for a border wall, 40% are against a border wall, and 20% said 'No comprende'. I gotta tell you, as an American, I don't care how Mexicans feel about a border wall, because with enough time, they'll get over it."

The Miss Nevada event happened recently, and a transgender won it for the first time in the pageant's history. I think that's fantastic. I think what clinched it, was the talent portion, where she wrote her name in the snow."*
