

Want more people to be informed?
Share the NZR link and please forward this email!

PASS IT ON - SIGN UP

WHAT IS NEW ZEALAND RISING?

New Zealand Rising is an alliance of separate groups and individuals from all across New Zealand who believe in a better future. We are many different people with different views, however we all share a common vision for the future.
"We, the people, stand united for a New Zealand that is respectful, includes everyone, and is free of government overreach."
"Kia tūkotahi tātou ō Aotearoa, hei whakarangatira tātou i a tātou. Herea te Kāwanatanga, kia kore e pēhia te mana o te tāngata."
NZR Directory of all groups around New Zealand that share this vision are on our website
Newsletters past and present can be viewed and downloaded here.
Letters to the Editor: send to newzealandrising@proton.me
Donate to NZR today to help defray email & web-hosting costs. 100% of your donation goes to these costs. Use the details below and flick us an email of the good news! Thanks in advance.

DONATE TO NZ RISING
DETAILS: (ANZ) NZR 06-0169-0214362-02
Stay tuned for NZR to accept donations on our website via credit card.

SECTIONS

1. From the Editor
2. News From NZ Rising Member Organisations
3. NZ News
4. International News
5. Other News
6. Essential Reading
7. Keeping a Sense of Humour Perspective

From the Editor: You may have noticed that we're not covering the recent New Zealand general election. Since we're a directory of organisations and individuals, we decided early on, not to cover political races here. There are other media outlets and organisations doing that. However, there can be lively debates and posts in our members chat groups. We have, though, posted an interactive map showing the recent results. On another note, please stay tuned for more on our fundraising initiative posted here in the newsletter and on our website. Proceeds will enable us to continue our getting the truth out to a broad range of people and organisations, bypassing the old media's stronghold, which is losing its grip. This issue is a good read.

NEWS FROM NZ RISING MEMBER ORGANISATIONS

From: Mary Byrne
Barry did us all a great service by becoming a whistle-blower and at the cost of his career, his reputation, and risking 7 years in jail. This court case won't go on forever, so let's rally troops once again, in support of Barry Young. Time and location: Tues, 24 Nov, 43 Balance St., Wellington District Court

Remembering Those Affected and Standing Together for Truth and Justice

Since 2022, New Zealanders who care deeply about the people and future of this country have come together each November to mark Red Remembrance Day, which was born out of a deep need to remember and honour those injured by the covid-19 experimental injections, those who lost loved ones, and those whose lives were profoundly changed by the government's covid-19 response and vaccine mandates. Five years on, the need to remember has not diminished, nor has the need for truth, transparency and accountability. This year, we invite you to stand with us on Saturday 14 November 2026 at 11am. Take time to remember those who suffered, stand alongside those still living with the consequences, and help ensure their experiences are neither forgotten nor dismissed. NZDSOS have prepared a handout for supporters to print and take along to gatherings, to use as a conversation starter, or share within their communities.
Download, print and share the document, (see image below) for Red Remembrance Day to help keep the conversations going. Download it here. To learn more about Red Remembrance Day, go here.

Dr Matt Shelton's HPDT Hearing: Evidence, Expert Witnesses and What Comes Next

By NZDSOS Media Team

The following is a measured and somewhat legally restricted description. Dr Shelton's case has waited a long time but we must be temperate whilst the process is still active. It is unknown when the judgement will be released.

Dr Matt Shelton's proceedings before the Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal (HPDT) concluded recently in Wellington. He was first contacted by the Medical Council of New Zealand (MCNZ) in August 2021 about his professional conduct after he sent a text message to his patients alerting them to his concerns about the lack of safety data for covid vaccines especially for pregnant women and children. He advised them to make a considered rather than rushed or coerced decision. It got to the newspapers and within days his GP business was taken from him and he was ejected from the College of GPs. Read the full story here.

Dutch Covid-19 Vaccine Case: What Happened in Court and What Comes Next?

By Dr Bruce Rapley

A plain-language account of the 22 October 2026 hearing in Leeuwarden

What happens when seven Dutch citizens take on some of the most powerful figures and institutions associated with the covid-19 response? On 22 October 2026, a landmark civil case was heard in Leeuwarden, bringing allegations of deliberate deception, vaccine injury and accountability before the court.

A courtroom, a contested case and no verdict yet.

Dr Bruce Rapley examines what was argued, what the claimants must prove, and what happens next in a case that raises questions extending well beyond the Netherlands. Read the report here.

Broken Trust And A Broken System

Editor's Note: Those of us active in the freedom community know Jeanette Wilson well. She suffered under the hands of a brutal police force at our peaceful protest in Wellington. Her newly released book is featured in our Essential Reading section at the bottom of this newsletter. I took the images above and below not long before Jeanette's assault by the police.

By Jeanette Wilson via NZ Media Collective

I am finally ready to tell my story. On 10 February 2022, I went to New Zealand's Parliament Grounds in Wellington, where thousands of ordinary New Zealanders had gathered to protest against government mandates.

I went to listen. To understand. To witness what was happening.

I never imagined I would leave with a broken sternum, inflicted during a confrontation with police, and find myself fighting for answers for the next four years.

But this book is about far more than what happened to me. It's about what happens when a government stops listening to the people it was elected to represent.

It's about police accountability, the power of the media to shape public perception, and what happens when an ordinary citizen tries to seek justice from the very institutions that are supposed to protect them.

It's about the extraordinary people I met. The courage, compassion, humour and humanity I witnessed. And the side of the Parliament protest that so many New Zealanders never got to see.

And it's about the questions that still haven't been answered. Read the rest of her story here. Why was so much force used? Why was my trespass charge eventually dropped?

Why, despite the video footage and official investigations, have I still been unable to establish the identity of the officer who injured me?

And how can we hold people accountable when the systems designed to provide accountability fail to deliver answers?

Over the past four years, I've gathered evidence, examined official documents, pursued complaints, spoken to lawyers and painstakingly pieced together what happened.

Now I'm putting that evidence before you.

Broken is not just a book. It's a digital documentary experience.

Through my personal account, original video footage, eyewitness experiences and official documents, I invite you to revisit those extraordinary weeks in New Zealand's history and consider the evidence for yourself.

You don't have to agree with my views. You don't even have to agree with why people were protesting.

But surely we can agree that every New Zealander deserves to be heard, treated with dignity, protected from unnecessary violence and given truthful answers when things go wrong.

I have chosen forgiveness. But forgiveness does not mean abandoning accountability. My hope is that this book will open conversations, challenge assumptions and encourage us to ask some very important questions about the kind of country we want New Zealand to be. Because when trust in our institutions is broken, it affects us all. See Jeanette' book link below or here.

Save This.
You'll Probably Need Some of These Links Later

From: Jodie Bruning, NZR Member on one of our NZR Forums
Useful! 50 legendary internet rabbit holes you can spend hours exploring.
Image: From Marine Traffic Website, listed below.

1. zoom.earth — Watch the world via live satellite imagery
2. flightradar24.com — See every plane currently in the sky
3. marinetraffic.com — Track all ships at sea in real time
4. windy.com — Live map of winds and storms
5. lightningmaps.org — Watch lightning strikes hitting Earth in real time
6. earthquake.usgs.gov — Live list of recent earthquakes
7. submarinecablemap.com — Ocean cables carrying the internet
8. globalforestwatch.org — Watch forests disappear from space
9. worldometers.info — The world's statistics, second by second
10. internetlivestats.com — Current number of tweets and searches posted
11. thetruesize.com — Compare the true sizes of countries
12. oldmapsonline.org — Maps from centuries ago
13. davidrumsey.com — Archive of 150,000 historical maps
14. openstreetmap.org — World map drawn by volunteers
15. window-swap.com — Look out the window of a random person the world
16. virtualvacation.us — Virtual walks through cities
17. mapcrunch.com — Teleport to a random spot on Earth
18. atlasobscura.com — Catalog of the world's strangest places
19. neal.fun — Interactive knowledge experiences
20. htwins.net/scale2 — Scale journey from atom to universe
21. eyes.nasa.gov — Explore the solar system in 3D
22. stellarium-web.org — Real sky map in your browser
23. apod.nasa.gov — NASA's astronomy picture of the day
24. images.nasa.gov — NASA's entire visual archive, free
25. pudding.cool — Visual articles told through data
26. ourworldindata.org — The state of the world with real data
27. gapminder.org — What we mistakenly think we know about the world
28. informationisbeautiful.net — Visualizing complex data
29. data.worldbank.org — World Bank's open data

30. data.tuik.gov.tr — Turkey's official statistics database
31. archive.org — Archive of millions of books, films, and software
32. gutenberg.org — 70,000 free books whose copyrights have expired
33. openlibrary.org — Record of every book in the world
34. loc.gov — U.S. Library of Congress digital archive
35. europeana.eu — Europe's cultural heritage archive
36. dp.la — America's digital library collection
37. artsandculture.google.com — Tour museums from home
38. rijksmuseum.nl — Download artworks in high resolution
39. wikiart.org — Archive of 250,000 artworks
40. publicdomainreview.org — Forgotten visual treasures of history
41. openculture.com — Free archive of culture and education
42. metmuseum.org — Met Museum's open collection
43. musicmap.info — Family tree of music genres
44. radiooooo.com — Pick a country and decade to listen to that era
45. listen.hatnote.com — Turn Wikipedia edits into audio
46. wikipedia.org — Random knowledge well
47. timeanddate.com — Time, sunrises, and sky events
48. sciencedaily.com — Live stream of science news
49. arxiv.org — Free preprints of scientific papers
50. observablehq.com — Visualize data with live code

Follow @The_techAI for more useful websites, AI tools & tech resources.

NEW ZEALAND NEWS

Who Will Be NZ Prime Minister? These Numbers Decide Who Wins

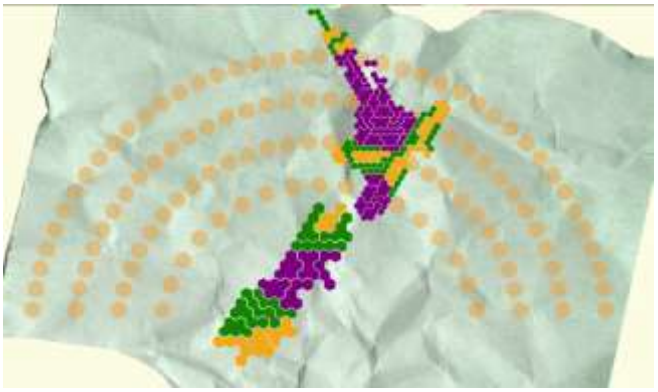

From: Opes Partners on Youtube

I ran the numbers on the provisional 2026 election result to work out which parties might be able to form a government. Just so you know where I'm coming from: I'm a property economist, not a political commentator. I'm not here to tell you who should win. The votes have already been cast, so I couldn't sway it even if I wanted to.

The reason I care is that property investing is a political football. And the next government could change the rules for investors. Those policies can push your returns up or down. So I'm trying to understand which set of rules is more likely based on the provisional numbers. Keep in mind too that property investors don't all vote the same way. You choose a party based on everything it stands for, not just its property policies. Watch the report here.

NZ Voting Data Visualised

Editor's Note: We're sharing this excellent website from The SpinOff, which has a number of interactive maps showing the overall results of our recent NZ election. You can see the maps here.

Uni of Sydney Blunders: Awards Ardern Teaching Position "Professor of Practice"

An Open Letter to the University of Sydney
From Voices For Freedom Founder Alia Bland

By Alia Bland, Co-founder, Voices for Freedom, on X
Regarding the appointment of Jacinda Ardern as Professor of Practice
Dear Professor Scott,

I read with absolute disgust that the University of Sydney has appointed Jacinda Ardern as Professor of Practice, where she will apparently be sharing her wisdom on empathetic leadership, social cohesion and civic trust.
You cannot be serious. You are quoted as saying:
"Dame Jacinda led New Zealand through events of profound consequence and her leadership demonstrated that empathy and resolve do not compete with one another; each can strengthen the other." Appointing Jacinda Ardern to teach social cohesion is rather like appointing Jeffrey Dahmer to teach a course on wellbeing, or Jimmy Savile to run the local daycare centre. The sheer absurdity would almost be funny if the consequences of her leadership weren't so hideously tragic.
My name is Alia Bland. I am a co-founder of Voices for Freedom, an organisation established in New Zealand in 2020. For years, we stood alongside tens of thousands of ordinary Kiwis whose lives were torn apart by the policies of Ardern's government. Read the full letter here.
Editor's Note: And for some levity I found this on Farcebook:
"Police and the military will be used to force you to comply. We will not hesitate to use our enforcement powers to ensure my Pfizer profits. They have promised me $30m so I can buy beach houses all over the world and then I can watch the climate not change." Read the complete letter here.

5G PhoneTowers Installed With No Resource Consent

From: Cell Phone Towers with NO Resource Consent on Facebook
If you or someone you know have a tower going up on your street, please message us. We are combining resources to fight this thing.

We are a group of 50 residents from streets around the country working hard to uncover what's going on, and we are sharing our experience and resources.
We see the massive psychological and mental toll these towers take on our communities.
Spark and Connexa are causing every day kiwis severe distress and emotional harm.
Dont battle it out on your own. Get in touch with us! This is a David and Goliath story. We are fighting corporate giants and our only path forward is to unite the people.
Kiwis are fed up with having their rights taken by corporations. See the post here.

Tower Location Names Are Being Hidden From The Public By Spark And Connexa

By: Caz Bradley on Wanaka VFF Telegram
After days of pressure, Connexa are still not cooperating in releasing the street names of every tower they have submitted after the October 8th law change. By not releasing the names, they are effectively hiding them!
We demand a fair transparent process. Kiwis deserve the right to know what's happening in their own neighbourhoods.
We suggest every Kiwi email Spark and Connexa and apply pressure to release a list of street names of tower locations.
Email your complaints and demand a list!

Cc in all of the below emails to demand tower locations. And share this post far and wide so every Kiwi knows what's happening!
inform@connexa.co.nz
meghana.muthappa@connexa.co.nz
Fiona.Matthews@connexa.co.nz john.wesley-smith@spark.co.nz althea.lovell@spark.co.nz
mobiledirect@spark.co.nz
The Confirmed Number Of Towers Has Grown From 800 Towers To 3500 New Towers. This is a tower tsunami. If you put these towers together end-to-end they would be 52 km long! The scale of this rollout is astronomical.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Prominent mRNA Advocate And Scientist Changes His Mind

By Guy Hatchard, The Daily Telegraph NZ
He will not take any future vaccines using mRNA technology and calls for a ban.
For seven years founder and CEO of Canadian genetic consulting company Merogenomics, Dr. Mikolaj Raszek, has published in-depth videos reporting scientific research papers related to Covid infection, viral evolution and Covid vaccines. Merogenomics provides specialised education and clinical consulting services to guide individuals and their doctors through the process of private Whole Genome Sequencing. One aim of this is to help doctors recommend cancer treatment options for their patients. See the full piece here.

Synthetic Feed Additive To Be Fed to Livestock In Australia

The EU trade agreement signed by Prime Minister Anthony Albanese mandates that Australian beef and dairy farmers feed their livestock Bovaer (3-NOP), a synthetic feed additive designed to reduce emissions. This requirement will be legally binding and fully enforceable under EU law. See the piece here.

Democrats Are even Asking Questions

Editor's note: Referring to the map above regarding the US Mid-term elections, this article points out the unrealistic move towards Democratic votes in states and counties that have traditionally, voted Republican, such as Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana. At the very least, a reasonable person knowing these counties would say this is unrealistic. Something isn't right.

Nobody believes this.

Democrats are even asking questions--it's so obvious.

2,848 out of 3,109 counties is beyond unrealistic, especially when you learn that states across the country registered millions of "new voters" without ANY verification of U.S. citizenship, with some counties even having more ballots counted than registered voters. See the post here.

Data Centers Are Losing 38-1 at the Ballot Box With More to Count

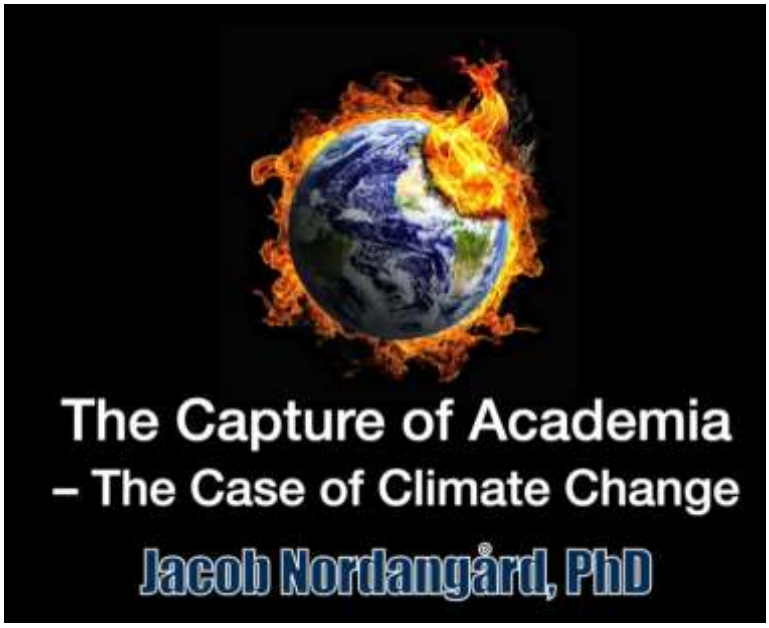

A 495-megawatt, three-story data center is under construction in Vernon, Calif., on Oct. 29, 2026. Mario Tama / Getty Images

From Epoch Times

Roughly 77 percent of voters nationwide are casting ballots against AI expansion

Data center developers are having a bad year at ballot boxes across America. On Nov. 3, many cities and counties held votes on more restrictive rules for data centers. Six communities had already voted to pass similar ordinances earlier in the year. Taken together, 38 local measures restricting data center development have now carried, and six measures are leading, for a total of at least 44 new roadblocks that developers will have to either work around or avoid by siting their data centers elsewhere. Read the rest of this story here.

The Capture of Academia
A Remarkable Paradigm Shift

In 1988, the threat of anthropogenic climate change was declared as a common concern for mankind by the United Nations General Assembly. The same year, the International Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) was founded by the World Meteorological Organization and the United Nations Environmental Programme to assess the science of human-induced climate change. The Cold War was about to be replaced by the "Warm War".
This marked a remarkable paradigm shift in which researchers confirming this theory would henceforth be allocated enormous resources compared to researchers questioning the "scientific consensus" and highlighting natural climate variations. The former would be heralded as heroes whereas the latter would to a large degree be ostracized and branded as climate deniers funded by the oil industry. How did this happen? Watch this here.

The Ghost Paper

Clayton Morris interviews technical surveillance specialist Jesse Beltran and

A Deep Dive Into Flock Cameras

From: Agent131711 on Substack
I'm Being Stalked

researcher Caroline Mansfield regarding the Ghost Paper, which outlines claims of internal microcircuitry and directed frequency manipulation in civilians. The guests detail controlled frequency testing, nonlinear junction detection and an observational study utilizing zeolite interventions to reduce measured body emissions. The discussion extends to Havana syndrome briefings presented to members of Congress, ongoing directed energy inquiries and allegations concerning modern mind-control technologies. Watch the interview here.

The Tide Turns

This person is running for governor, and that's a great thing.
"The same people who told us to get vaccinated are also the ones are telling us the world is overpopulated and that data centres are safe."
See the post here.

Wherever you think this series will end up, I assure you, it's not what you think, but before we can get to the twists and turns in the story, we have to cover the basics….
I hear so many people say when referring to their personal data being collected by tech companies, or, in this case, law enforcement, "I don't care because I have done nothing wrong." Some add comments like, "Only criminals care if their data is collected." Read the agent's full piece here.

Hungarian Parliament Removes EU Flag, Throws It Out The Window

Hungary rebels: "They forced us to join the EU under false conditions, so we must break with it." Will this become a domino effect? Is this the beginning of the end of the EU? See this post here.

Conspiracies Put to the Test

Was there a second JFK assassin? Can the government plant thoughts in your brain? Is Atlantis real?

Chad Robichaux explores these questions and more in the new TCN series, “Shadow Figures.” it's been 63 years since President John F. Kennedy was murdered, and we still don't know the full story, or even the outline of the full-story. Why don't we know that?

Why can't we? And that's not the only thing we don't know. All over the world, for example, there are huge stone structures built thousands of years ago.
We're told that primitive people built them with primitive tools. Really? Have you looked at them? A modern stonemason couldn't do that with modern tools.

Why is no one interested in finding out how these things were made? At some point, we stopped being curious. In fact, curiosity became a kind of crime. People just

AU Police Whistleblower Under Attack

Editor's Note: I can't verify the identity of the police officer pictured above. There is no signature to the letter below. With that disclaimer, I thought it was still worth posting.

"You WIn, NSW Police
You have left me with no realistic way to financially survive.
And I believe this is retaliation…
I was a NSW Police officer.
I served for 10 years, attaining the rank of Senior Constable.
In 2021 and 2022, I formally spoke out about serious wrongdoing I had experienced and witnessed.
My worker's compensation claim was fully investigated and determined in my favour.
In 2023, immediately following that finding, I was medically discharged from NSW Police."
See the complete letter/post here.

accepted the official explanation, which is no explanation at all, and then they moved on. Well, Chad Robichaud is not willing to move on. Watch the first episode of this series here.

Gueralla Journalism To Be Tested in Court

From James O'Keefe on X
It begins. I just received summons today to appear in criminal court in Minneapolis on November 16th.
I'm calling on all journalists to appear in solidarity with the 1st amendment.

O'Keefe went undercover a voting center in Minnesota, was caught, and the result is a possible prison sentence. From O'Keefe's original post: "Poll Workers Tell O'Keefe, Dressed in Muslim Garb, and another in a Burka, That They Can Vouch for Eight Unregistered Voters Without ID, Allowing Them to Vote in Minnesota Primary Election Election worker says, "You're the ID," referring to the registered voter serving as identification for the people they are vouching for. See Okeefe's story here.

Planes Labelled "Weather Modification"

When you see Planes with 'Weather Modification' labelled down the side of them - it probably means Planes are being used to modify the weather Also known as geo-engineering, stratospheric aerosol injection or solar radiation management But please keep on calling it just a conspiracy. See the post and video clip here.

Gervais After His Golden Globe Speech

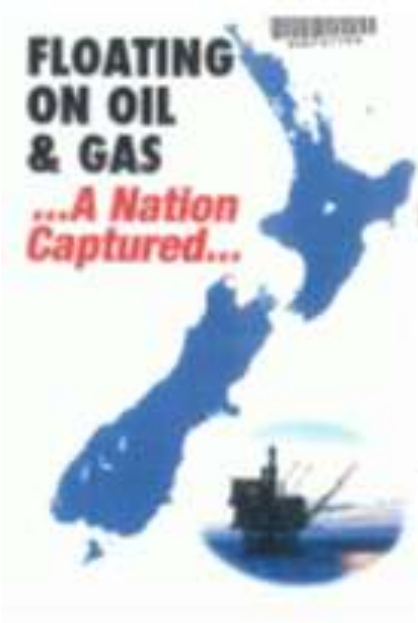

From: Ricky Gervais on X
This photo was taken backstage immediately after my monologue at the 2020 Golden

Globes. Not sure I realised quite what I'd done
And this comment on his X Channel:
"You should get an Oscar or something. That was the best thing I've seen on TV or cinema ever. I still watch it over and over. I love seeing some of their pompous faces drop. Hahaha. Keep doing what you are doing. Us "working Joes" love it.: See Gervais' post here.

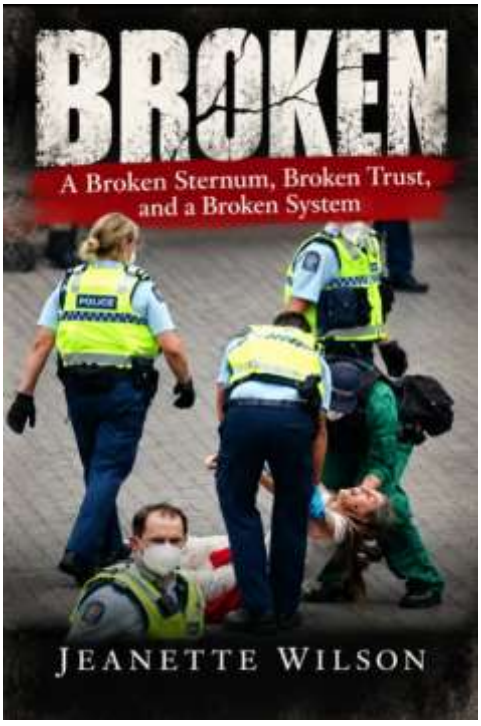

Essential Reading & New Releases

Essential Reading

Editor's Note:This book, in its 4th edition, is really hard to find. I found one copy in the Waimate District Library in Omakau and

New Release

Digital book and video diary featuring written chapters and original video footage from one small image of the cover with no discription. It appears they don't really want us to know about this. The ISBN is 9780473174828 | 0473174820 and the library call number is 622.1828 and it's here. Good luck!

Jeanette and other contributors. Not a physical book. The book is offered without charge in the spirit of sharing and giving that was so evident within the Freedom Village. One woman's personal account of standing up for freedom, suffering a serious injury, and discovering just how difficult it can be to hold those in authority accountable. Get the book here.

Keeping A Sense of Humour Perspective

An Apple Took Out A Helicopter?

Does anyone know if we got jets yet? Watch this interesting take here.

How Does Money Work?

Ismo puts it in a way that makes one wonder, "How does it really work?" This applies to NZ too. Watch here.

"Despite the high cost of living.... it remains popular."

STATEMENT OF PEACEFUL INTENT

At New Zealand Rising we would like to reiterate our position as an organization that is fully committed to peaceful, non-violent action and dissent and to clearly state that we do NOT support or wish to be associated with anyone who is advocating, suggesting or even just implying violent revolutionary change. You can read more about what we stand for in our Guiding Principles.

Editorial Disclaimer: The opinions, beliefs and viewpoints expressed by the various content providers and contributors in this email do not necessarily reflect the opinions beliefs and viewpoints of the NZ Rising membership or the official policies of NZ Rising, which serves as a directory of various New Zealand groups.
NZ Rising Newsletter: Editor & Curator/Writer: Randall Richards (NZ Media Collective/Mountain Spirit Media); Proofreader: Mark Toomer; Editorial Reviewer: Mary Byrne; Content Contributor: Amanda Richards; NZR Facilitator: Phil T.
Past Newsletters are available in downloadable PDF on our website here:

New Zealand Rising

This email was sent to randy@mtnspirit.org
You've received it because you've subscribed to our newsletter.

View in browser | Unsubscribe

Sent with Brevo